GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS ABROAD

Edited by Joseph S. Roucek, Chairman of the Department of Political Science and Sociology, University of Bridgeport, with the collaboration of: Floyd A. Cave, San Francisco State College; Glen A. Hoover, Mills College; Thorsten V. Kalijarvi, U. S. Library of Congress; Wilbert L. Hindman, University of Southern California.

A REVISED edition of Roucek's study of the history, politics and peoples of 33 important nations, covering events as late as March 1948 . Stressing the significance of each region to Americans, this book gives a clear, objective and comprehensive evaluation of the social, political and historical forces agitating Britain, France, Russia, Germany, and the smaller nations of Turkey, Spain, Portugal, the Baltic States, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Latin America. It surveys the geographical background, the people, the economy, the pattern of constitutional growth, suffrage and elections, political parties, executive powers, public education, physical planning, housing, production and employment, of each country and provides the student or layman with an overall, up-to-date view of the international scene. Widely adopted by colleges and universities throughout the country. Over 600 pages, textbook edition $4.00.
